

Look Alikes?

This baby giraffe looks like its mother.
Let's meet other baby animals. We'll see if they look like their parents.

Look in the tree. These koalas live there.
The baby koala holds onto its mother's back. It's smaller than its mother.

The mother and baby koala look alike.
They both have gray fur. Each koala has a black nose.

Look at the monkeys. The mother has black and gray fur. The baby monkey has orange fur. They do not look alike.

Look, this baby is changing color! It is growing up. Its face has black and gray fur now. Soon, it will look like its mother.

Look in the lake. A father swan swims with his babies. The father and baby swans are different colors. They do not look alike.

The babies will grow up. Their gray feathers will turn black. Their black bills will turn red. Then they will look like their father.
