

Climate Region Research

Name(s) _____

Climate Region: _____

A climate scientist is a person who studies climate around the world. You will research one of the five climate regions and create a project to communicate what you have learned. Be sure to keep a record of the sites/sources of your information.

Geographic Location
Where would we find this climate region in the world?
Temperature
Is it hotter or colder than other climates? Why?
During which month is the temperature the highest? During which month is the temperature the lowest? What is the current temperature?
Precipitation
Is there more or less precipitation than other climates? Why?
About how much precipitation falls in this region during the year?

Seasons
Are there changes during the year? If so, describe.
What Would You Pack?
If you were going to visit this climate, what would you bring along to be prepared?
Would this change if you went during certain times of the year? Why?
Animals in this Region
What animals can be found in this climate region?
Additional Information
Share any additional information or surprising facts you may have found about this climate region.

Sources
List the sources or websites you used to gather your information.	