

Continent Research Project

By Ms. Audlehelm's Class

We have been learning about continents in our class. Each group was to take what they learned, use continent books, and an atlas to research their continent. Each group was responsible to work together to create a chart about the land and the animals in their continent. Then they were to use their chart to draw a detailed picture and write a sentence telling the reader about their continent. I am so proud of each group. They all worked together and came up with some really great things about their continent.

Here is a look at what they did.

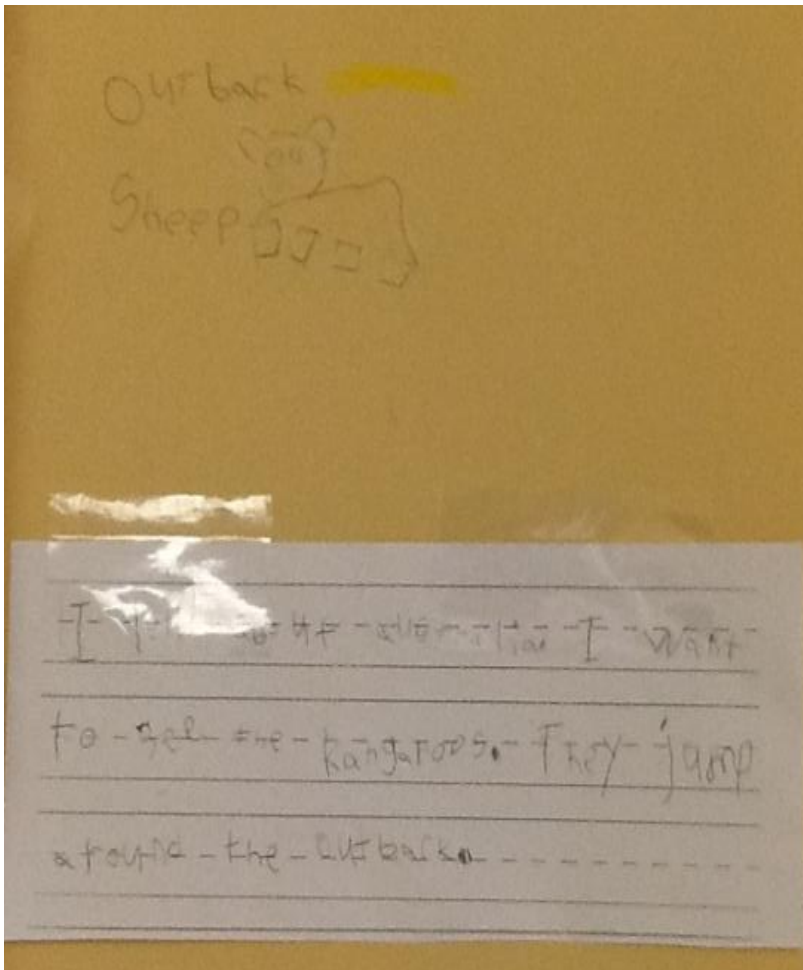

Welcome to Australia by Ricky, Omar, and Breanna

Working together to find out about Australia!

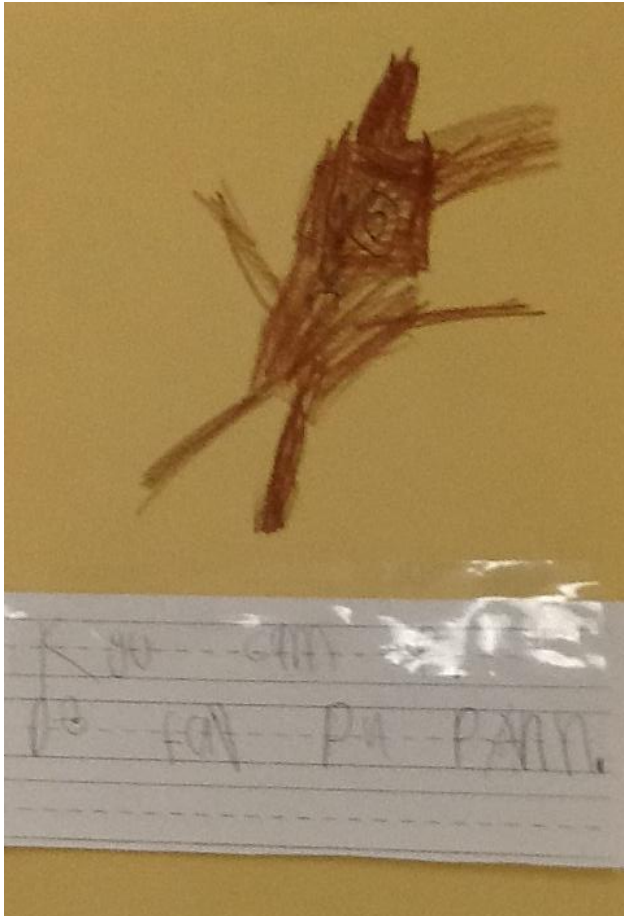

Ricky

I learned about Australia. I want to see the kangaroos.
They jump around the Outback.

Breanna

Kangaroos can jump. They have a pouch.

Omar

You can swim in the Great Barrier Reef.

Welcome to South America by Bayleigh, Kevin, and Sierra

Learning a lot about South America!

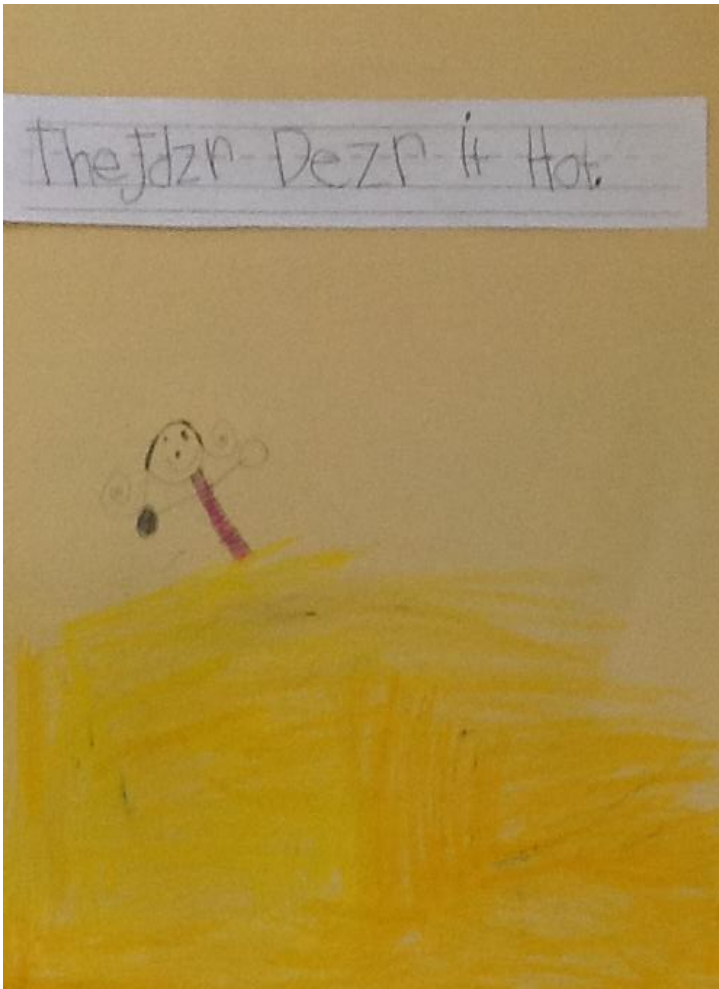

Bayleigh

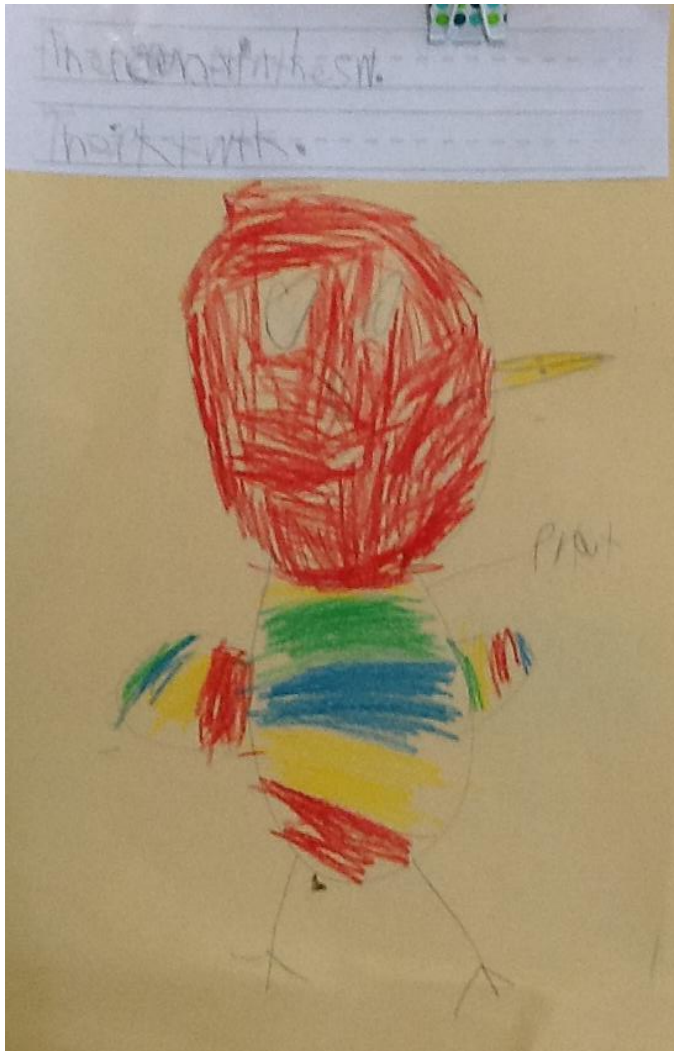

I learned about South America. I want to see a pink dolphin. I want to see a rainforest.

Sierra

The dry desert is hot.

Kevin

The parrot can fly in the sky. The parrot talks when you are talking.

Welcome to Antarctica by Drew, Angel, and Emily

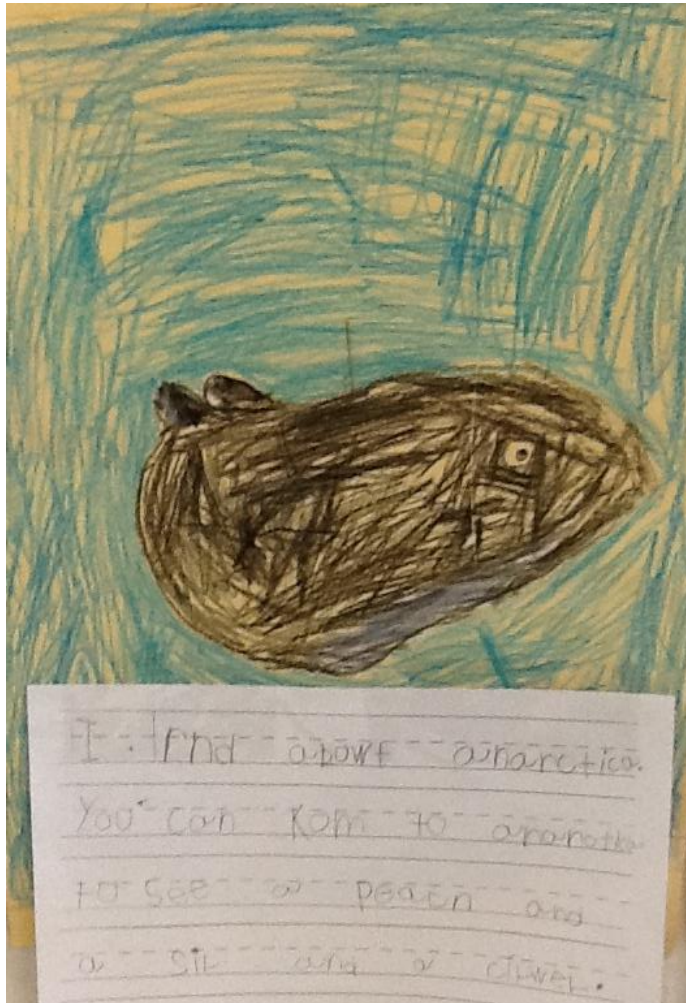

So much to learn!

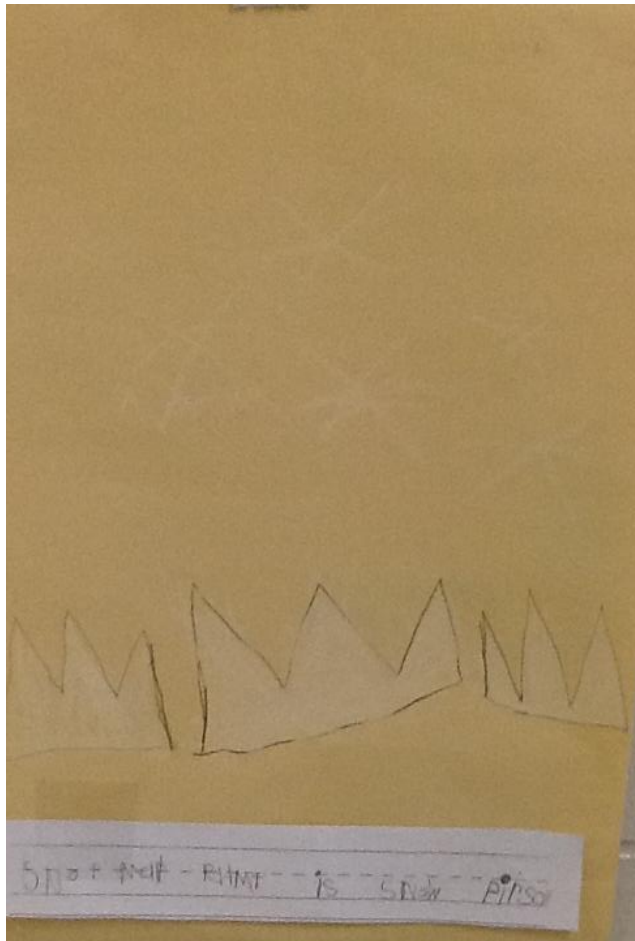

Drew

I learned about Antarctica. You can come to Antarctica
to see a penguin,
and a seal, and a killer whale.

Emily

Snow covers the mountains in Antarctica.

Angel

Penguins slide on their bellies.
Penguins waddle.

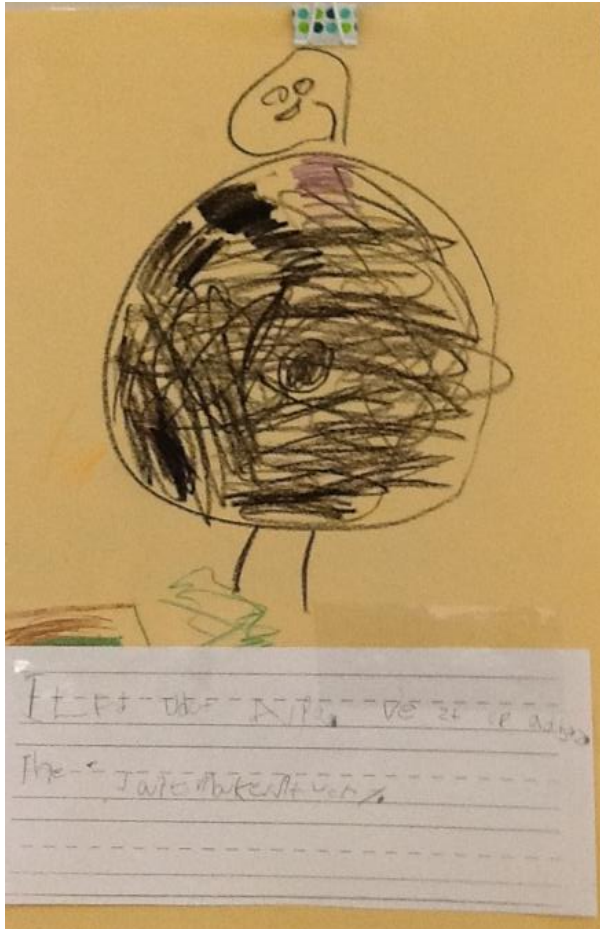

Welcome to Asia by Cassity, Genesis, and Braeden

Working together to learn about Asia!

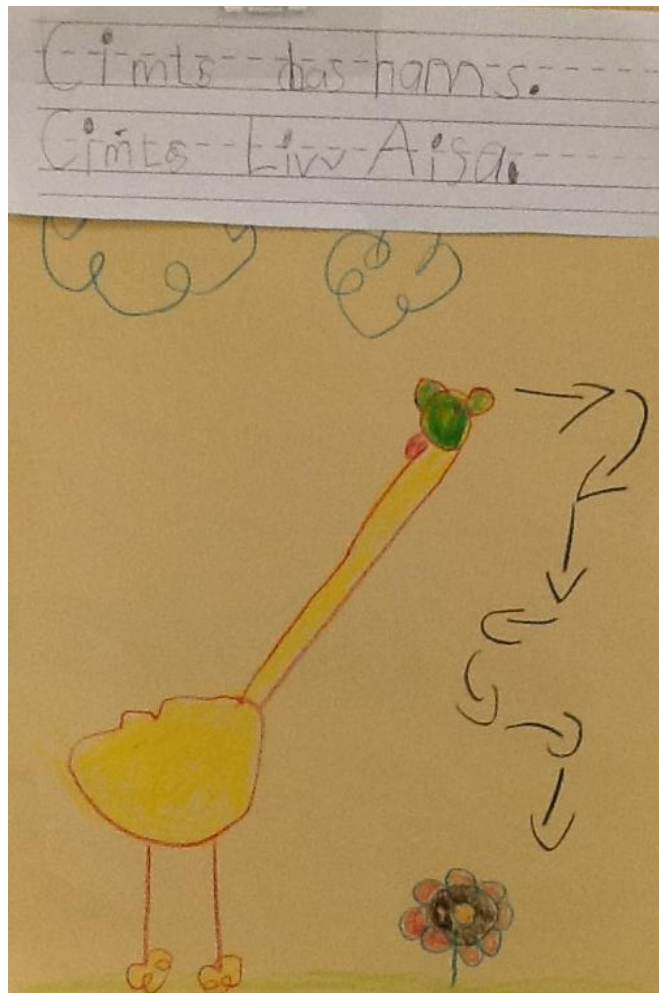

Braeden

I Learned about Asia. Visit the pandas, and the Dead Sea (you can float).

Genesis

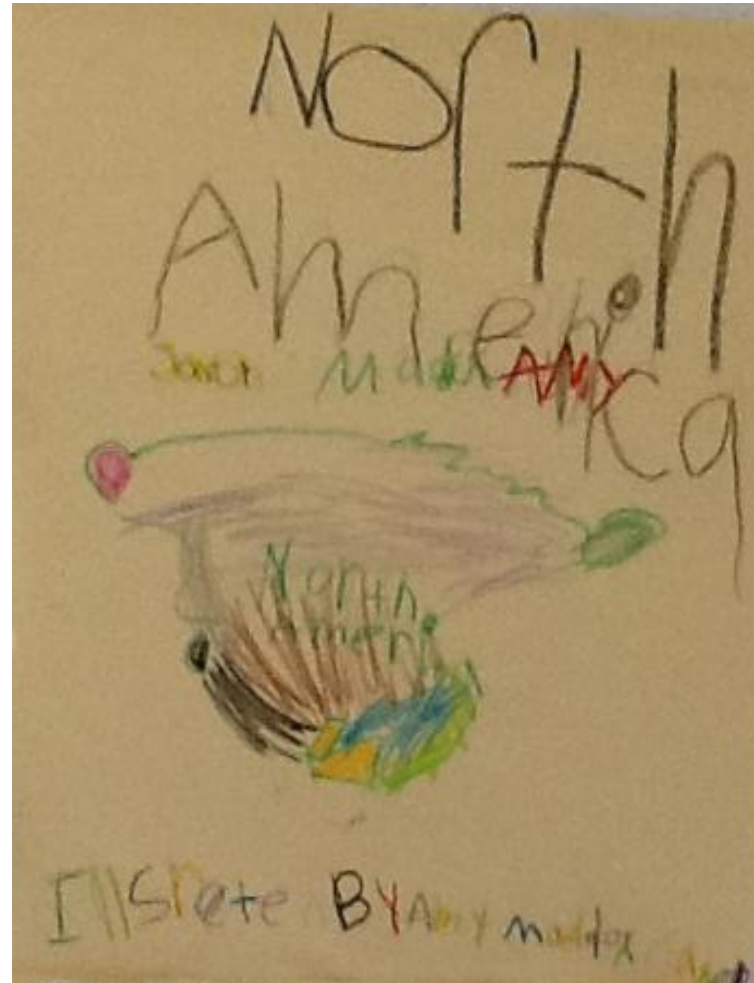

Camels have humps.
Camels live in Asia.

Cassidy

The Great Wall of China has people
and you can walk on the ground. It is really long.

Welcome to North America by Jaxon, Maddox, and Amy

We live here!

Jaxon

Come to North America to see the Statue of Liberty.

Maddox

Dogs come and lick.
And they run really fast. They live in North America

Amy

North America you can see the Rocky Mountains. The mountain is big.
There is rock.

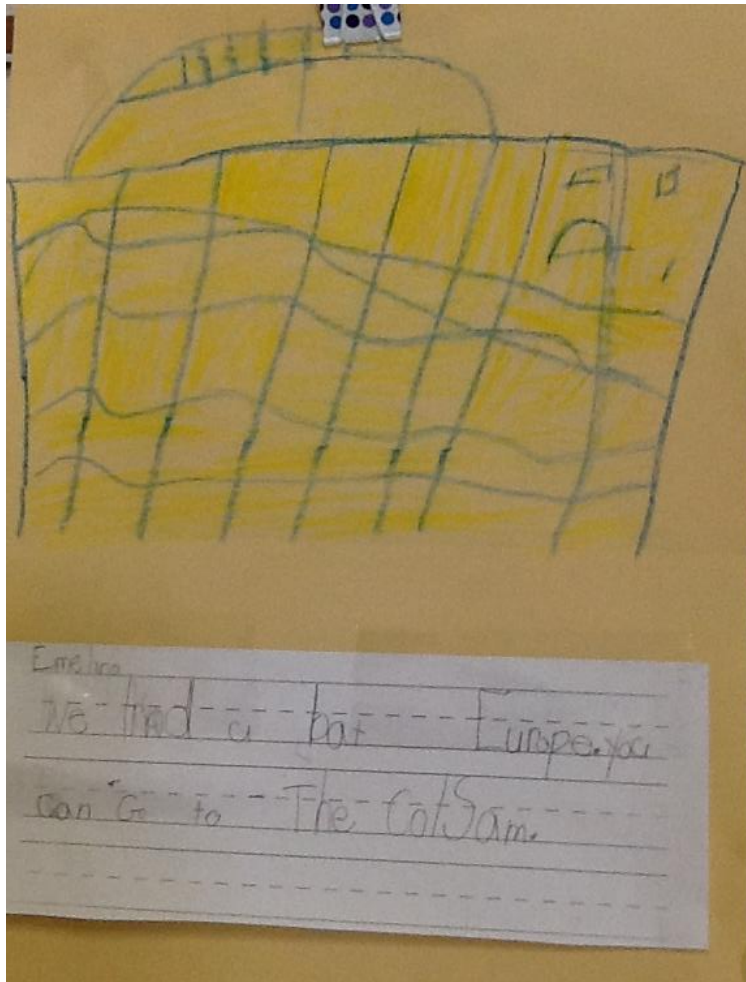

Welcome to Europe by Emelina, Eli, and Deven

Learning so much together!

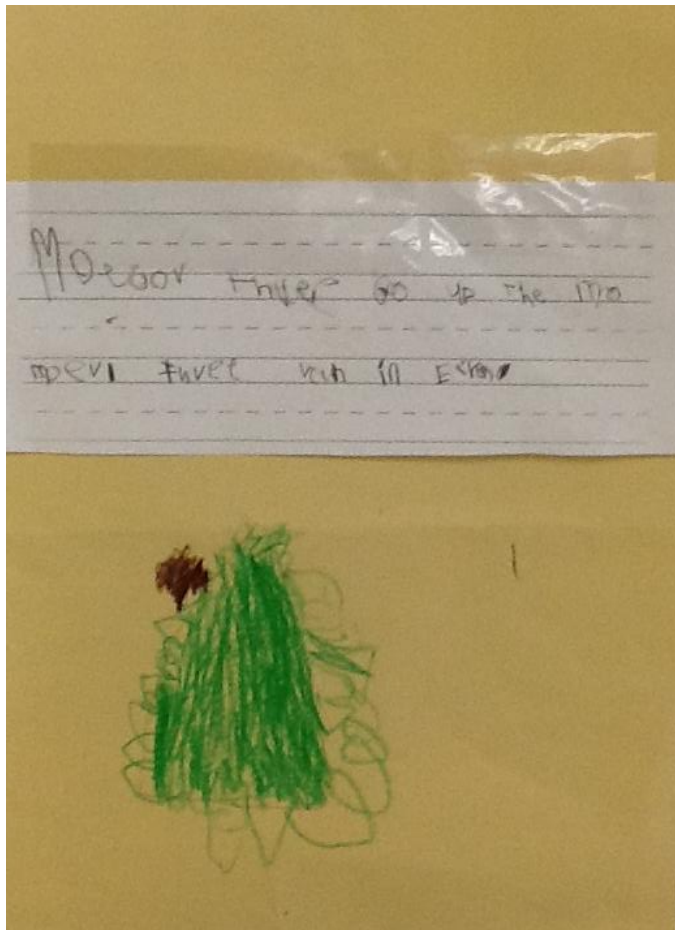

Emelina

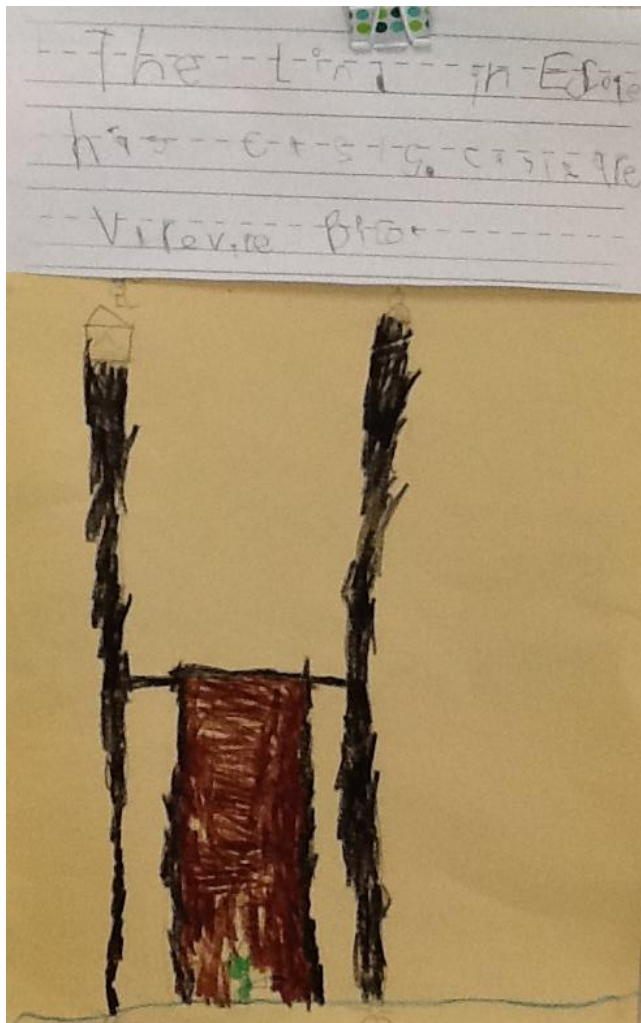

We learned about Europe. You can go to the Coliseum.

Deven

Mountain goats go up the mountain.
They live in Europe.

Eli

The land in Europe has castles. Castles are very, very big.
